PUBLIC COMMENT

Delegate Robert Zirkin updated the Board and the public on the summer school initiative. He stated the federal government has given Baltimore and Prince George’s Counties Public Schools an additional $448,000 for summer school programs this year. He also noted that due to the efforts of Dr. Poff, Mr. Rauenzahn, and others, Baltimore County’s summer school programs are being recognized nationally as a model. Additional money is being requested for next year.

Delegate Zirkin announced a community meeting at Owings Mills High School has been scheduled where the topic will be a new middle school in the Owings Mills area. He expressed his concern at the large number of students in the area's middle schools and noted there are 25 construction sites in the Owings Mills area that have not yet been started. Delegate Zirkin informed the Board that children in his community go to four different schools. The delegate requested that the Board, during this budget cycle, consider the purchase of a site for a middle school in the Owings Mills area.

Mr. Arnold thanked Delegate Zirkin for his support of the summer school initiative and expressed the Board's appreciation for his efforts.

Ms. Jasmine Shriver, a representative of the Citizens' Advisory Committee for Special Education, noted the recent MGT study reported that Baltimore County Public Schools returned almost $1.5 million in grant money over the last two years. Of that amount, $700,000 was in IDEA grant money. She requested that the school system use all of the federal grant money and noted how difficult it is to secure federal funds.

Ms. Meg O'Hare, Chair of the Northeast Area Educational Advisory Council, informed the Board of the sharing of concerns during a meeting at the Curriculum Workshop today. She was pleased to see the dialogue among the participants and shared the hope that we are learning to work together as well as learning to share talents and opinions. Ms. O'Hare expressed her confidence that Baltimore County Public Schools will become the best school system in the country.

Ms. Felicia Maxsam, a representative of the Minority Achievement Advisory Group (MAAG), noted the group is successfully expanding its membership to include representatives of various racial ethnic groups to focus on issues relating to minority and poor students. During 2001-02, the group plans to continue to monitor progress made by various offices in addressing topics related to students, especially minority and poor students. They will concentrate on the "gross disparity" in suspensions and expulsions along racial lines. They will also investigate minority representation in special education and gifted and talented programs. MAAG also plans to focus on the role of the new Assessment Office. Ms. Maxsam stated MAAG will present its recommendations to the Superintendent and the Board. She complimented Dr. Hairston on his reorganization plan, and distributed copies of an article regarding Howard County's plan to reorganize.

He also thanked Delegate Zirkin for his strong focus on Baltimore County Public Schools. Mr. Beytin informed the Board of his attendance at the recent NEA Convention in California, where high stakes and mandated testing was a major topic of discussion. Mr. Beytin stated there is a great fear that use of one high stakes test in a state will be the major determining factor of the success of students. He also stated there is fear of the repercussions of the nationally mandated 1st-8th grade testing proposed by the Bush administration. Mr. Beytin expressed his feelings on testing and, finally, read excerpts from a commentary by Sandra Feldman.

REPORT OF THE WORK SESSION OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF BALTIMORE COUNTY, MARYLAND

Wednesday, July 11, 2001

President Donald L. Arnold called the work session to order at 6:40 p.m. In addition to Mr. Arnold, the following Board members were in attendance: Ms. Erica A. Cohn, Ms. Phyllis E. Ettinger, Dr. Warren C. Hayman, Ms. Jean M. H. Jung, Mr. Michael P. Kennedy, Mr. James R. Sasiadek, Mr. Sanford V. Teplitzky, and Mr. James E. Walker. In addition, Dr. Joe A. Hairston, Superintendent of Schools; staff members; members of various civic, employee, and community groups were present as was the media.

Mr. Arnold reminded Board members to contact Mrs. Zepp by Friday regarding their attendance at an October conference.

Mr. Hayden entered the room at 6:42 p.m.

Dr. Hairston stated tonight's presentation would provide an overview of the central office restructuring and operating organization. He also stated the presentation would demonstrate services and how the model will be implemented this year. Dr. Hairston noted that tonight's presentation reflects a $1.5 million savings for the school system.

Ms. Ross-Holmes entered the room at 6:48 p.m.

Ms. Johns' presentation included a visual of the service model for schools. She emphasized that this is not a reporting structure. Ms. Johns noted that principals are the heart of the organization. They report directly to the Executive Directors of Schools. The model shows that any principal may seek support or advice from the Superintendent.

Mr. Hayden noted that in the service model presented, it appears that only the Superintendent has access to the Board of Education. He pointed out that all employees should have access to the Board. Dr. Hayman disagreed. He stated the public should have access to the Board, and school system employees should have access to the Superintendent rather than the Board. Mr. Teplitzky stated it is important for the public to understand the role of Board members so people know if it's appropriate to come to them with concerns. Ms. Ettinger noted that a free flow of information in both directions is important, and one of the keys to that is appropriate access to the Board, especially by the public. The model shows the Superintendent as the Board's only employee, and this needs to be clear to the public.

Mr. Haines emphasized that the service model is about student achievement; it is a way of organizing functional operation so that the vision can be delivered. He confirmed that this model has nothing to do with the Board's interaction with the public. Mr. Haines stated services could be obtained from a number of locations. We must identify those people who are not working in the most efficient and effective manner and help them become more efficient, thus allowing schools to spend more time on education. Mr. Haines stated we must identify the needs of students, staff, the leadership, and how the needs support student achievement.

Dr. Hayman noted that everyone has a role with respect to accountability. He also suggested that the term “student achievement” be defined and perhaps expanded to go beyond students’ achievement on tests.

Mr. Teplitzky noted in the area of shared accountability, the issue of clearly defined expectations and the uniform communication of those expectations to the public should be included.

Ms. Johns reviewed the reporting structure for her area of responsibility, Curriculum and Instruction. She provided a brief overview of the responsibilities of Elementary Programs, Secondary Programs, Special Programs, Assessment, Education Channel, and Student Support Services.

Ms. Jung asked for clarification about the role and responsibility of the Middle School Improvement Director. Ms. Johns responded that the director will work with the Executive Directors of Elementary, Secondary, and PreK-12 Programs. This person will also look at the middle school program to establish a task force to see how we can make the program better.

In response to questions raised by Ms. Ettinger and Ms. Cohn with regard to a smooth transition between elementary and secondary levels and ensuring students enrolled in special programs are equally prepared, Dr. Hairston emphasized the primary function of the Executive Directors of Schools will be to monitor the performance and resources in the schools.

Mr. Sasiadek stated he would be looking to Ms. Johns as Deputy Superintendent to ensure key people in Curriculum and Instruction are working together. Ms. Johns stated that is part of her role and responsibility. She noted that she will meet regularly with her Executive Directors, and at those meetings issues can be identified and teams can be set up to work together.

Mr. Teplitzky inquired as to where the system is with regard to delivering services to schools with an understaffed work force, i.e. social workers, psychologists, counselors. Ms. Johns indicated that Dr. Mohler is currently looking at one concept with respect to psychologists, and we also need to look at how we are doing business. Dr. Mohler stated that his department is working with Assessment to rate each school using a number of factors. The neediest schools will be identified and it will then determine how existing resources can be deployed to assist them. Dr. Mohler is developing a comprehensive Student Support Services model that will impact student achievement. Mr. Teplitzky voiced his hope that part of this model will bring to the attention of central office the successes in our system so they can be shared with schools that are struggling.

Ms. Ettinger shared her concern about the movement of the IST Facilitator to Psychological Services, noting that it is an instructional support model. Dr. Kidder, Coordinator of Psychological Services, explained she had concerns about the future and generalization of this program. Psychological Services wants to focus on IST so it can be in a position where the program can be generalized to a number of schools. Dr. Mohler added his department is looking at the IST program so it can be strengthened. The department is also looking at 504 programs to make sure they are being implemented, monitored, assessed, and evaluated in the manner they should.

Dr. Hayman suggested the coordination of services so there is no duplication.

Ms. Ettinger suggested we look at various program delivery models being used. She also stated we must use existing resources well before asking for more. Ms. Ettinger also expressed concern about the role of guidance counselors. She stated their time needs to be guarded so it is not used in inappropriate ways.

Ms. McMahon provided a brief overview of the Department of Elementary Programs and the service model for that area.

Mr. Kennedy, Ms. Cohn, and Ms. Ettinger expressed concern that no one from the curricular offices would be involved in the supervision/evaluation of teachers. Ms. Johns stated that it is expected that central office staff will be in the schools, but they will provide support rather than supervision.

Mr. Hayden left the room at 9:00 p.m.

Ms. Ettinger shared her concern that content expertise be available to teachers, department chairs, and administrators to make certain we are delivering a written curriculum. Ms. Cohn stated that principals should be encouraged to seek support from instructional services.

In response to a question by Ms. Ettinger, Ms. Collins, Executive Director of Secondary Programs, described the involvement of the curricular offices in the selection of people to fill department chair positions.

Ms. Jung communicated the importance of placing emphasis on curriculum writing, support to teachers, and the learning that takes place in the early grades (pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, and first grade). She also echoed the concerns expressed by Mr. Kennedy and Ms. Ettinger with respect to curricular offices being involved in teacher evaluation.

Ms. Ettinger voiced her hope that the arts programs would not be negatively impacted because of its placement under Elementary Programs. As a supporter of the arts, she would like to see the arts sustained and strengthened.

Mr. Arnold announced that due to the late hour, the discussion on the reorganization would continue on a date to be announced. At that time, Special Education and Professional Development will make their presentations.
