Balloons and flowers for students should not be sent to school. Please save these special ways to celebrate for home.

*As per BCPS Superintendent’s Rule 5470, we are promoting non-food items also be sent to class for scheduled celebrations. However, we recognize that there may be a few classroom celebrations that the teachers request parents send in food items. This list is nut, egg, and dairy free and is our effort to stay compliant with our BOE policy during classroom celebrations this year.

- Accommodations and modifications will be provided for exceptional learners.
- Grades can be accessed by students and parents on an ongoing basis using Schoology. Report cards can be accessed using Focus.
- Interims for elementary students- If a student shows a marked decline in achievement (decrease of two or more letter grades or a failing grade) in the marking period, the teacher is expected to send home an interim report informing the parent/guardian of this decline.

Vacations

• There are occasions when families have the opportunity to take a vacation during the school year. Helping children keep up with the school-work they will miss is a challenge for parents and teachers alike. Our teachers plan, in advance, according to a long-range scope and sequence. Planning for daily instruction is an ongoing process that requires frequent adjustments due to daily assessment of student needs. Therefore, instruction and learning that was planned is often rearranged or revisited.
• Please keep in mind that there is a great deal of learning that takes place in the classroom through discussion and other activities that cannot be made up in the form of an assignment.
• If your child misses school because of a vacation, your child’s teacher will collect the work he/she misses and give it to him/her upon returning to school.
• Our teachers are giving the missing work as a courtesy and are not obligated to use the returned work for make-up grading purposes. Thus, a child’s overall grades may be impacted for missing class work due to vacations, which are unlawful absences.

Visitors

• The building will maintain a limited number of people throughout the day.
• Parents and those registering new students can make an appointment as needed.
• Meetings and conferences may be held virtually.

Zero in on Safety

- In the event of an emergency, as determined by administration, visitors must enter the school building through the front doors and check in with the office.
- BCPS enforces a standardized visitor registration procedure in all schools and office buildings. It provides a list of individuals in the building should an emergency occur.
- Enforcing a simple registration routine is foundational to school security. Procedures must be followed in all schools and offices during the entire year, summer included.
